December 2019 Knights Of Columbus Michael J. Costello Council 6043 The Catholic Community Of Pleasanton Grand Knight's Message

Worthy Brothers of Council 6043,

This Advent, it's my personal prayer and focus to be present in relationships that are meaningful. I once texted a good friend, "We need to get together and spend some time. We see each other in passing, chat a little at church, but haven't made time to sit down and be." The Advent season is when we Knights watch, hope & serve. We remain vigilant to the happenings of the Season. We hope that the next year will not disappoint. And we double-down on our oaths to serve the One who came to save us. Be mindful of presence, more so than minding presents.

Much gratefulness goes to those who served in the various November events: Veteran's Day Rosary at the Cemetery, The Silva Coat Drive, First Sunday Donut Social, Thanksgiving Basket deliveries, 40 Days for Life, Exemplification Ceremony and the Midway fraternal event. I wish that I could mention everyone by name, but I would inadvertently omit someone. Please accept the Council's sincere appreciation for all your efforts.

The month of December offers opportunities to serve the Council and the Parish. The following events need various skill sets to plan and execute: Keep Christ in Christmas Poster Contest, Xmas Masses Parking Crew, CCOP building repairs, Breakfast with Santa, and Giving Tree drivers. And last – but not least – kudos go to The Hewitt's for hosting the traditional Council Xmas Party at their home.

Let's pray for each other as we enter this blessed Advent Season. We watch and wait and serve in the name of the One who was born of the Virgin. December will get busy as we prepare for the Christmas Season. Let's try to not get lost in the busyness and focus to the importance of family and time together. Like a New Year's resolution, we can make an Advent commitment to focus on bettering ourselves as the dawn of a new Church year begins.

O come, o come, Emmanuel. Be with us, Lord.

Vivat Jesus,

From the Council Faith Director

J.M.J.

God is Faithful!

O come, O come, Emmanuel! Advent is again upon us. A time for preparation, reflection and anticipation.

One is lured to material preparations with a special here and another (black) (cyber) special there. One's time and efforts are distracted from the Real meaning of the Advent Season. I encourage all members to watch and wait. We wait for the day that the birth of a little child can and has changed the whole world; a day we know as Christmas.

Years ago, I took time to really meditate on the day of Christmas. Yes, like all of us, as a child, I was really excited! I Gazed on the Christmas Tree, a fresh, live, dark green symbol of my Catholic faith and my Church community. The smell still lingers in my sub conscience. The color was reflected by the lights surrounding and glowing throughout this tall living object taking up the full picture window of our house. These lights reminded me of God lighting the way to our salvation. These lights became a glowing beacon in my soul. These lights became more glowing by the colored ornaments shimmering and the glow reflecting off them. This reflection of my life is like the many friends that have surrounded me through out my life; Reflecting my need and duty to love all of them at all times, unconditionally.

The Day came and I was overwhelmed by the gifts of Christmas for all of the family. The many well thought out gifts are a symbol of the many gifts God gives Us. Well thought out and meeting my wishes and dreams. I have to admit that one gift would eventually become my favorite and the other simply discarded or forgotten. I came to realize that God wants us to be happy and freely gives us many more gifts than we really deserve. I, like a (spoiled) child, did not really realize what God had intended. To enjoy and treasure ALL of the gifts He has in store for us.

I hope that this reflection is shared with your family and friends. I hope that you also come to reflect on your journey of the Christmas season. A Merry Christmas to all!

Respectfully, Your faithful Lecturer, PGK Dennis Maurice.

And have a Happy New Year!

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS EVERYDAY HEROES

Dear Brother Knights:

We are pleased to share that the Knights has launched the second season of the video series Everyday Heroes.

The 11 short-form documentaries introduce viewers to ordinary Catholic men living and finding their faith in extraordinary ways. Whether returning to the wrestling mat after a life-changing accident, creating a safe place that provides hope and help for the families of sick children, bringing clean drinking water to Guatemalans or making the ultimate sacrifice to save classmates, these men truly are heroes.

Kicking off this season is "Running for Grace." In this episode, Trevor Miller, an accomplished lefty reliever in the Major Leagues, faced his greatest challenge when he became the father of a child born with a rare genetic disorder. Miller learned to measure success by the daily will to live for his daughter, Grace, and the lessons of love and self-sacrifice that she taught him and his family.

The videos provide an excellent opportunity to introduce men and their families to the Knights of Columbus. Look for the videos to be featured in Catholic News Service, local Catholic and social media. Like and share their stories with friends, family and your community.

The first and second seasons of "Everyday Heroes" are available to view on kofo.org/heroes. A new episode and article will be featured weekly on the new Knights of Columbus online News Hub.

Our Faith Director Points Us to a Story from the Past THE UNTOLD STORY OF THE KNIGHTS DURING THE CRISTIADA

4/26/2012

María de Lourdes Ruiz Scaperlanda

Cristero soldiers Mexican freedom fighters who rose up against the anti-Catholic laws ride with the banner of Our Lady of Guadalupe and Christ the King. Depicted here is the San Gaspar regiment, led by Cristero officer Manuel Ramírez de Oliva.

On an ordinary January day in 1927, as Yocundo Durán walked home in Chihuahua, Mexico, he crossed paths with Federal Gen. Miguel Valle, who was walking out of a local tavern. The general recognized Durán and had one of his soldiers detain him and ask, “Are you a Knight of Columbus?”

During this period, the Knights of Columbus became a symbol of all things Catholic: a hopeful sign to Mexican Catholics and a seditious organization in the eyes of government leaders.

Durán confirmed that he was a Knight and asked whether there was any evil in it. Considering this an indictment, Valle pronounced Durán a “subversive Catholic” and ordered him shot on the spot. Durán’s body was later delivered to his family in a bricklayer’s cart.

Scenes like this were not uncommon in 1920s Mexico, as the Mexican government led one of the most violent anti-Catholic persecutions in the 20th century. During this period, the Knights of Columbus became a symbol of all things Catholic: a hopeful sign to Mexican Catholics and a seditious organization in the eyes of government leaders.

PERSECUTION BEGINS

Just five years after the first Knights of Columbus council was established in Mexico in 1905, the country was catapulted into a long period of armed conflict, now called the Mexican Revolution. But what started as a fight against the established autocratic order evolved into a multi-sided civil war, with each competing faction claiming legitimacy.

Although Catholicism had been a part of Mexico's history for nearly 400 years, the Catholic Church was perceived as hostile toward the revolution, resulting in an unstable and anti-religious social and political environment. A new constitution, which included several anti-clerical articles, was drafted in 1917, setting the stage for an era of persecution that lasted more than two decades.

In April 1917, Mexican bishops living in San Antonio prepared a letter of protest, affirming that the new constitution "destroys the most sacred rights of the Catholic Church, of Mexican Society, and of Christian individuals."

Despite these challenges, the Order in Mexico not only survived this period; it thrived. Membership grew from 400 Knights in 1918 to almost 6,000 in 51 councils just six years later.

Between 1926 and 1929, an open rebellion took place against the government's new persecutory laws, which were formulated and strictly enforced under Mexican President Plutarco Elías Calles. Resistance to the "Calles Law" started peacefully, in the form of signed petitions, economic boycotts and demonstrations. But in August 1926, sporadic uprisings sparked the beginning of the Cristero War, or Cristiada. The rebels took their name from their battle cry: "¡Viva Cristo Rey!" (Long Live Christ the King!). To the Mexican government, this pronouncement often last words of Cristeros before their deaths was more than a declaration of faith; it was an act of treason. About 70 Mexican Knights were among the Cristeros who died while standing up for their faith.

During this time, the government seized Catholic schools and seminaries, expropriated Church property, and outlawed religious education. It closed Catholic hospitals, orphanages and homes for the elderly. It also banned monastic orders, expelled foreign-born clergy and prohibited public worship. Priests and nuns were barred from wearing religious garments, from voting, and from criticizing the government or commenting on public affairs either in writing or in speech. If charged with a violation of the law, they were, like Durán, often denied a trial.

Mexico's bishops were expelled, and many of the clergy were exiled for years; those who remained or returned in secret were forced to work and minister "underground." Many seminarians were also exiled to Spain or the United States.

AN ORGANIZED RESPONSE

From the Order's establishment in Mexico, Knights were active in starting schools and hospitals and invigorating the spiritual life of parishes. Within the country, the Knights ...

Eucharistic Adoration

Eucharistic Adoration is adoring or honoring the Eucharistic Presence of Christ as He is present in the consecrated host. Because, as Catholics, we believe that Christ is truly and substantially present in the Eucharist, the Blessed Sacrament is given the same adoration and devotion that is accorded to Christ.

During Eucharistic Adoration, we "watch and wait", we remain "silent" in His Presence and open ourselves to His Graces which flow from the Eucharist ... In its fullest essence ... Eucharistic Adoration is "God and Man reaching out for each other, at the same time!"

Come join us for Eucharistic Adoration at St. Augustine and St. Elizabeth Seton. This is a great opportunity during these hectic times to sit quietly in prayer and meditation ... to clear our minds of all of life's busyness and be present to Our Lord.

Brothers Knights,

Your help is needed to support the Eucharistic Adoration mission in our parish at St Elizabeth Seton on Monday or Wednesday of each week. The time commitment is small compared to the great benefit of prayer, peace, and love you receive from our Lord, Jesus Christ. If you can not commit to an hour two brothers can split a time slot 30 minutes each. Thanks.

From the Worthy Chancellor

My Dear Brothers in Christ,

I want to address this month's comments to our 1st and 2nd Degree Brothers.

Why are you encouraged to progress through the 2nd and 3rd Degrees?

I ask you to remember back to when you became a Knight. What brought you to the Knights of Columbus?

A common theme I hear is to "serve;" to serve the parish, to serve the community and to serve the world. And that is a very good and worthy reason. But many of us like the experience of togetherness (unity) and camaraderie (fraternity).

The Knights of Columbus currently have 4 degrees, with the 3rd degree being "Full Knighthood" and the 4th degree being more an honorary degree, the Patriotic Degree. So as a Knight moves through the degrees, each is focused on one of the pillars of the Order: Charity (1st), Unity (2nd), Fraternity (3rd) and Patriotism (4th).

The design is to help men realize the pillars of the Order of the Knights of Columbus, with a teaching of one of the pillars for each degree. But I find that most Knights find more personal reasons. I came into the Knights to serve (charity), and then lived the unity and fraternity as I received my 2nd and 3rd Degrees. I have gotten a taste of the patriotism by attending the Red, Blue and Gold dinner that the Knights sponsor to honor our First Responders, and a few other events. So I ask you to consider advancing at least to Full Knighthood, the 3rd Degree.

Here is an upcoming Opportunity for Advancement:

Combined 2nd and 3rd Degree: Saturday, January 18, 2020 at St. Elizabeth Seton,
--hosted by our council.

Please contact me if you have any interest in these advancement opportunities.
